FOR THIS 24TH EDITION, LUXE PACK MONACO OPENS ITS DOORS TO A SPECIAL GUEST: KACPER HAMILTON, DESIGNER.

Born in London, Kacper Hamilton designs glass, furnishings and products, and studied at the famous London-based Central Saint Martin's College of Art & Design. By 20, he had already finished his first major work, titled "The 7 deadly glasses".

This limited edition range of handmade wine glasses, carefully placed in a sarcophagus, comments on the ritual of wine drinking and invites us to explore what is considered socially acceptable behaviour.

Based on the 7 deadly sins, each glass contains a sin revealed through drinking from it, each glass offers a different experience of wine drinking.

While experimental, the work built a precedent in the world of design.

Kacper Hamilton was asked to design the windows for Louis Vuitton Paris, where he has worked on several major projects, creating a window that is completely unique.

The next major work of Kacper Hamilton was for Ballantine's Whisky, entitled "L'Art de la Dégustation" ["The art of tasting"].

Kacper's main aim is to use design to give a new lease of life to day-to-day rituals, making them new and unexpected.
